

When Ha-rol-d was in - vad - ed, And fall - ing, lost his crown, And Norman William wad - ed Through-gore to pull him down: While counties round, With fear profound, To mend their sad con - dition, And lands to save, Base hom - age gave, Bold Kent made no sub - mis - sion. Then sing in praise of the Men of Kent, So loy - al, brave, and free; Of Bri - ton's race, If one sur - pass, A Man of Kent is . . he.
