

O that I had ne-ver mar-ried, Since I led a care-full life;
Things with me are strangely car-ried, Now I am be-come a wife.

Whilst that he doth take his plea-sure, (Lest he should to ru-in run,)

Here I la-bour out of mea-sure, Wo-man's work is ne-ver done.