

Long ere the morn Ex - pects the return Of A-pollo from the o-cean queen, Befor the creak Of the crew and the break Of the day in the wel-kin seen, (croak)

Mounted he'd halloo, And cheerfully follow To the chace with his bugle clear.

Echo doth he make, And the mountains shake, With the thunder of his ca - reer.